1.3.1 - Institution integrates crosscutting issues relevant to Professional Ethics, Gender, Human Values, Environment and Sustainability in transacting the Curriculum.

Preamble

IEMS College actively incorporates crosscutting issues such as Professional Ethics, Gender, Human Values, Environment, and Sustainability into its curriculum. This integration is achieved through various programs and initiatives designed to enhance students' awareness and understanding of these critical topics.

Professional Ethics:

The college promotes professional ethics through various workshops and events which aim to instil a scientific approach and social awareness among students.

Gender Issues:

IEMS College addresses gender-related issues through specific programs aimed at empowering women and girls. International women's Day is celebrated in the campus every year which include various competitions for girls and also workshops on women's rights and laws.

Environment and Sustainability:

The college emphasizes environmental protection and sustainability through various initiatives led by the college. Activities include tree plantation drives, cleanliness campaigns, and educational programs about biodiversity and environmental issues.

Human Values:

Extracurricular activities and community service events conducted in the college reinforce the importance of human values and social responsibility among students.

IEMS College's commitment to these crosscutting issues reflects a holistic approach to education, aiming to develop well-rounded individuals who are not only academically proficient but also socially responsible and ethically aware
